

We connect people who dare to grow!

Change is progress; Luke knows that better than anyone. Bringing in an Interim Professional may well be the solution for temporary staffing or major changes. They are not connected to the history of a company and can therefore make difficult decisions more easily. We continuously work on the influx of interim talent. That is why we have access to the best interim candidates within the fields of Sales, Finance, Supply Chain, IT, Marketing, Technology, Operations and HR at the touch of a button.

Nikki de Munk,
Market Manager Interim

Luke Interim Solutions' team has years of experience in recruiting and selecting professionals. Under the motto "rather today than tomorrow," they make quick connections between clients and Interim Professionals.

For Nikki de Munk, Market Manager Interim, quality is paramount. "I enjoy connecting people, thinking along in business processes and answering specific interim questions." Within the Luke team, everyone knows both client and candidate through and through. Nikki: "As a result, we know exactly what kind of person we are dealing with. And only then can we provide that perfect match."

Luke Proof

Luke Interim Solutions knows how to quickly paint a picture about the essence of a role and, most importantly, the person who fits the culture of the organization. Candidates are pre-tested and selected. This makes them 'Luke Proof'; curious, reflective, flexible and able to deal well with new and complex situations. Nikki says, "Our Interim Professionals can be deployed to companies that are in the midst of a transition, want to change their strategy, are 'making the next step' or are working on a project that requires specific expertise."
